

Contribute better together

Keep everyone in sync with visual tools that help you focus team conversations.

Nialli™ Workspace

Ensure all relevant project information is available to teams while they plan together. Nialli Workspace lets teams share drawings, documents, images and more, whether they're in a Big Room or distributed around the globe.

Full remote access

Give design teams the flexibility to work exactly how they need, whether colocated, distributed or hybrid. Nialli Workspace works with different kinds of tech products – including large interactive walls, displays and laptops. Connect and contribute from anywhere.

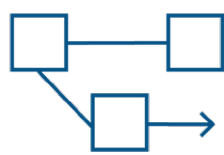

Share resources

See the big picture with tools that make it easy to view relevant project resources in context, plus link directly to source content.

Visualize conversations

Enhance team discussions and decision-making – it's easy to share ideas, mark up drawings and make decisions from anywhere.

Create workflows

Create workflow templates to suit your needs. You can build value stream maps, kanban boards and more, making it easier to track decisions.

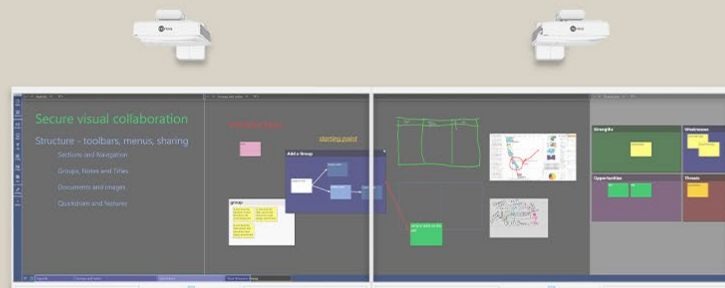

Gain insights

Access data to increase transparency and identify opportunities for improvement. You can also export it for more in-depth analysis.

INTERACTIVE WALL

Collaborate on a large scale

Complete your pull planning solution with an interactive wall that takes the traditional big wall experience into the digital world. Its huge surface offers precise 40-point multitouch and highly flexible configurations – letting you keep what you love about your paper processes while adding digital flexibility.
