

Build better together

Get the digital pull planning tool that keeps conversations going and projects on track.

Nialli™ Visual Planner

Choose the digital pull planning tool that's intuitive by design, for contractors and trades alike. Nialli Visual Planner is a digital application of the Last Planner System® that is familiar and easy to adopt.

Full remote access

Give teams the flexibility to work exactly how they need, whether colocated, distributed or hybrid. Nialli Visual Planner works with all kinds of tech products – including large interactive walls and displays, laptops, tablets and smartphones. Connect and contribute from anywhere, on any device.

Increase conversations

Get everyone talking with digital tools that make discussion and decision-making at the jobsite easier – plus allow workers and stakeholders to access plans anytime and anywhere.

Accelerate adoption

Avoid lost productivity and costly delays with software that's easy to use from day one. Take full advantage of the Last Planner System, but add the digital efficiencies you need.

Remove constraints

Make better use of limited jobsite real estate. You can collapse and expand lanes of work as needed without losing clarity, plus it's easy to switch between plans at any time.

Increase transparency

Keep everyone in the know from executives to superintendents to tradespeople. Whether you're at the jobsite or head office, the details you need are always a click away.

INTERACTIVE WALL

Collaborate on a large scale

Complete your pull planning solution with an interactive wall that takes the traditional big wall experience into the digital world. Its huge surface offers precise 40-point multitouch and highly flexible configurations – letting you keep what you love about your paper processes while adding digital flexibility.

Contact us

Nialli Inc.
nialli.com/visual-planner
sales@nialli.com